

WE NOMINATE

Aladar and Victor Olgyay, two of the remarkable architects of their time, who in Princeton University's unique Architectural Laboratory—the cage-like, glass-walled structure visible through the “open end” of Palmer Stadium—are concerned with studying the relationships between human needs and such basic “architectural,” or environmental, factors as climate, light, sound and humidity. These identical, 44-year old twins, exiles from their native Hungary and newly naturalized citizens of the United States, are understandably gaining more and more attention as they experiment with architectural designs which will capitalize upon the advantages offered by a specific sectional climate.

By using such research tools as the heliodon, or sun machine, which makes it possible to reproduce the shadows of the sun at any hour of the day on a building located anywhere in the world, the brothers Olgyay are filling voids of information about what fundamental building-shapes should be in the four (“cool, temperate, hot-arid, hot-humid”) climatic regions of this country. For instance, in analyzing the conventional “square plan” utilized in “cool” Minneapolis, Minn., the Olgyays wrestle with more than the esthetic and emphasize that in “hot-humid” Miami, Fla., an elongated building with the same floor-space would be 16.3 per cent cheaper to heat and 8.1 per cent cheaper to cool.

The sons of a painter and professor in the Academy of Fine Arts, Budapest, and the first twins ever to teach here in the University, the Olgyays have worked together for so many years that their professional bio-ographies are interchangeable. They were graduated together from the Royal Hungarian Polytechnical University and months later won the coveted prix de Rome. It was to be the first in an unusual series of First Prizes that carried them to Rome, Paris, London and finally to New York as Kendall Fellows at Columbia University. In 1938 they returned to Budapest, opened their own office and never stopped creating apartment-houses, hotels, exhibition buildings and town-planning projects until they saw that there could be no compromise between East and West and that their ideals lay in the West.

In their adopted country, with the exception of one semester when Aladar did work in climatology at the University of Texas and Victor launched the Olgyays at Princeton, the brothers have continued to function as a team. They served together for four years as Assistant Professors at Notre Dame, worked for a year as project supervisors at M.I.T. and in 1953-54 qualified as Guggenheim Fellows. And they point out that their credo for their life's work, which in essence is the interplay between man and architecture, is capsuled in one of Winston Churchill's dicta. “We shape our buildings and our buildings shape us.”

For contributing their dynamic vigor and colorful talent to the task of making architecture a more exact science; for their vast enthusiasm for the West's—and Princeton's—way of life; for looking to the future and placing man's every-day needs above the demands of tradition; they are Town Topics' nominees for

Topics of the Town

Enter Bus Service. Princetonians (in the Township only) seeking transportation to the Shopping Center will in all probability find free bus service available within a few days. This newest development on the two-month old proposal was made possible this week by action of the Township Committee.

The committee by unanimous vote decided to allow a three-month trial period of operation of two routes, one of which may be invalidated by the fact that it traverses private streets owned by Princeton University.

The application as presented by Tiger Bus Lines calls for bus service without charge, to be operated on an eight-round-trip-per day basis. Approval was granted after a low-keyed hour-long debate which skirted the major economic and long-range aspects.

A major objection, in addition to questions of public safety and traffic conditions, was voiced by Henry J. Frank, 237 Jefferson Road, who pointed out that two new routes had been submitted which included a number of streets not part of the original

Under Cover Meeting

Mayor Albert Salzman, during discussion of the Township's badly-needed Township Hall expansion, drew laughter from spectators by announcing that meetings would be held outdoors if the additional space was not forthcoming. In explanation, Mr. Salzman reported that the existing public meeting room would have to be turned into offices unless the addition is erected immediately.

With only a few questions from the floor, the committee unanimously passed the ordinance for its $120,000, two-story building which will be joined to the present structure. The committee hopes to let bids next month and have the new space in operation by summer.

proposal and that residents had not been informed of the pending development.

Questioning brought out the fact that the buses will operate with closed doors within the limits of the Borough. The Borough Council rejected an earlier form of the bus application last month and no resubmission is planned immediately, according to John Vandenberg, president of Tiger Bus Lines. He reiterated his feeling that Borough residents will "bring pressure on the Borough Council" to grant a permit for the operation.

A letter from the University pointing out that it is not in a position to grant public transportation franchises over its road in line with prior policy came as a "surprise" to the bus proponents. The Township Committee gave its approval of a second route which would include stops in the University's veterans' housing project on the condition that University authorities first give their consent. Mr. Vandenberg told the committee that he had consulted Police Chief James Campbell and that the Township police department will assist in selecting proper places for permanent stops.

Having heard a number of residents as well as Shopping Center spokesmen favor the project, Mayor Albert Salzman and Committeeman John H. Wallace Jr. reversed their positions of a month ago and agreed to an experimental period. Committeeman Richard H. Wood, announced as "on the fence" in November, introduced the trial operation motion.

A major factor was the removal of Valley Road (travelled by many school children) from the proposed routes. As the matter now stands, at least one bus route will go into operation shortly, awaiting only virtually sure permission from the Public Utilities Commission. Legal negotiations must also be completed before the three-month period goes into effect, and meetings with University authorities will also be held shortly.

New Fire Chief, New Police. Princeton Borough got a new fire chief and two new members on its police force as a result of Borough Council action Tuesday night. Charles J. Rocknak's election as fire chief was confirmed, his term to run throughout 1955. A member of the governing body and of Mercer Engine Company No. 3, Mr. Rocknak succeeds George Galligan. George F. Cabili of Princeton Engine Company No. 1 and George Rollings of the Hook and Ladder Company were named as first and second assistant chief.

Richard J. Panicaro, 24, and Ralph A. Procaccino, 22, who are neighbors on Humbert Street, have been named special officers on the police department. They will serve a year's probationary term and are scheduled to become patrolmen thereafter. Mr. Panicaro, married and the father of two children, has been an automobile mechanic; Mr. Procaccino, who is married and the father of one child, has been a clerk in the post office.

At Tuesday's meeting, council also:

Received bids for major expansion of the sewer and incinerator plants; learned that the Seminary has contributed an extra $1,000 in lieu of taxes and will increase its donation by $2,000 (to $5,000 in all) in 1955; reported that building activity was running more than $250,000 below last year's 11-month figure of $1,200,000; noted that some 1,100 motor vehicle violations were recorded during November, about 85% of them for over-time parking.

A contemplated project of ten year's standing also came to an end at the meeting. Some $86,000 of the amount originally appropriated to build a community house (about $17,000 of it was later used to create the Harrison Street playground) was transferred from capital to surplus funds. The ordinance enabling the move declared that "the remaining funds are now insufficient for such a building and no suitable site is currently available."

Mrs. Cawley Resigns. Dr. Elizabeth H. Cawley, president of the Borough Board of Education since February, 1953, resigned from the board at its December meeting on Tuesday. She cited as the reason for her move the absence of her husband, Professor Robert R. Cawley, from Princeton during the academic term starting next February and her plans to accompany him to Oxford, England.

Mrs. Courtland D. Perkins of 80 Murray Place was named to fill Mrs. Cawley's unexpired term on the board. Dr. Elmer G. Hornighausen, board vice-president, will serve as president until the reorganization meeting in February.

Christmas Fund appeal is made. I should like to send my usual contribution now," a woman wrote in sending her check last October. Last week, the appeal was published and other welcome letters followed.

Five young members of the "Tolly Bittals Club" gave a play, charged admission and sent the proceeds to the fund. An anonymous contribution was received with the comment: "A little bit, but it would help if all would send $1."

A woman commented in sending her gift:

"The over-commercialization of Christmas has removed so much of its joy and pleasure. Each year, your TOWN Topics appeal, and in particular this year's request to use a faith in the true Christmas spirit. It was really a source of great pleasure to write this check for you."

Various groups in Princeton are planning to aid the children mentioned in the appeal, with the Social Service Bureau handling many of the details. Five plays after the fund had been started, $744.48 had been received.

Because so many need in need than in other years are the object of the year's appeal, and because so much can be accomplished in view of the fact that they still have virtually a life-time—Continued on Page 5

Christmas Tradition. New Jersey's typically un-wintery December weather may not have provided Santa Claus with the proper setting, but neither he nor his public minded. Each afternoon from 3 to 5 (and a little later, as all those who had first gotten a busy signal tried again), Henry Schultz was talking steadily to eager boys and girls. On both sides, there was boundless enthusiasm as one of Princeton's very own Christmas traditions was once more in full swing.

Each afternoon (except Sunday) from now until Christmas Eve, Santa Claus will be available to talk over presents, behavior, reindeer and the chances of a White Christmas. The magic number is 3375.

Contributions to the fund which makes sure that the blind bachelor is not himself forgotten when the last call is finished have been made by Hult's, Lahey's, Nassau Interiors, Lillian Bellows, Applegate Florist, Nassau Delicatessen, Artistic Hairdressers, Farr Hardware, Town Topics, Betty Wright Store, Clearose Studio, Princeton Water Co., Thorne's Drug Store.

Community Caroling. Another familiar event of Christmas week will be the annual community caroling program sponsored by the Princeton Lions Club and Princeton Municipal Improvement. The occasion has been moved from its traditional Christmas Eve time to this Wednesday in order to permit more families to attend.

The program will start at 5:45 with a free cartoon show for all children in the community at The Playhouse. Candy canes will be distributed at the end of the show, and children not attending may get them at 6:15 at the rear of the Post Office.

With Christmas music being played over a loud-speaker system, families will assemble around the lighted tree in Palmer Square for the start of caroling at 6:30.

Dr. Charles R. Erdman will offer a Christmas prayer, and then Thomas Hilbish will lead the singing, accompanied by trumpets and trombones directed by Mrs. Virginia Switten. Governor Meyner has expressed his hope of attending.

The annual appearance of Santa Claus atop the Nassau Tavern Hotel will be made at 7; following this, adults are invited to enjoy hot refreshments at the Nassau Tavern. The program has been planned by Robert Mangold of the Lions, with William Schneeweiss as general chairman.

are on the case list of the Family Service Bureau have been produced by a group of 24 teen-age volunteers under the sponsorship of the YMCA. The Girl Scouts and the Family Service Bureau have been assisting this project along with five adult volunteers.

As their part in the project, the Girl Scouts canvassed the Princeton area and collected over 350 used toys ranging from bicycles to toy blocks. The 21 teen-agers who constitute the "Toy Workshop" have been working to repair and repaint as many of the toys as possible within the five weeks before Christmas.

This year's volunteers have met each Tuesday night in the Nassau Street YWCA where they have turned out over 200 toys. The Family Service Bureau will now see to the wrapping and distribution of the toys as Christmas gifts.

The workshop has had the assistance of five adult volunteers Mrs. Benjamin Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Challenger, Rex Gorlegh and John Criscitello.

The teen-age volunteers who did the actual toy repairing are: Arthur Barclay, Julius Cross, Ronald Gillette, Henry Panell, Roddy Panell, Albert Pemberton, Edgar Riddick, John Smith, Vernon Hoagland, Ella Doggett, Joan Hill, Shirley Hill, Mary Ann Marshall, Blanche Thomas, Annette Owens and Emma Harmon.

Others who aided with the project are: Dianne Graham, Patricia Fish, Gail Smith, Martique Miller, Rose Marie Pannell, Myrna Hinds, Willis Mae and Mary Lounise.

Humans, Cars and Courts. New Jersey, loser in its struggle to keep traffic deaths below the 1953 level, has embarked on an earnest safety campaign for the holiday period. The Princeton area, scene of a third of Mercer County's 38 traffic fatalities, is a prime objective in the drive to keep men in control of their means of transportation.

Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro heard some 30 cases in Borough Court this week, most of them for speeding and going through "stop" signs. Magistrate Louis Gerber in the Township and Magistrate Ralph Mason in Rocky Hill heard many others.

Chief Justice Arthur T. Vanderbilt, in an unusual, hard-hitting letter to all magistrates in the state said: "Last year the people in New Jersey celebrated Christmas season by killing 105 people, maiming hundreds of others and destroying property worth millions of dollars.

"The same sordid celebration will take place again this year—unless something is done to stop it. I am thoroughly convinced that only by drastic measures can we make a dent in the congestion with which some motorists accept the tragic toll on our highways. "Accordably, I should like to make this one specific suggestion—that during the period from December 15 to January 2, which the Governor has proclaimed as a time for special emphasis on traffic safety, you give to each person found guilty of a traffic law violation an effective sentence and that you send to jail every person convicted of driving while intoxicated."

The Borough's Response. Magistrate Chesbro announced that persons found guilty of drunken driving in Borough Court may expect jail sentences of 30 days and that increasingly drastic measures will be taken in the coming year. His other warnings: the court will impose definitely heavier penalties on those who disregard stop signs; periodic checks on speeding by means of radar will be continued in the coming months.

Asking for the exercise of "care, courtesy and common sense" on the highways, Dr. Chesbro also told parents to be certain that their children are thoroughly competent to ride bicycles and pointed out that the practice of getting out of parked cars on the "driver's side" is illegal and extremely dangerous.

The Township's Response. A sentence of three months in the county workhouse for a second-time "drunk driving" offender was handed down by Magistrate Gerber in advance of the special holiday period crackdown. The defendant was Charles J. Weingart of Ten Mile Run, R. D. 1.

He was arrested by Township police after a brief chase on Route 206. Police related that Weingart had abandoned his car in the middle of the road, gone to nearby homes to ask for money for gas, and then sped off in his car when officers approached. Mr. Gerber said he revoked Weingart's license in January of 1952 on a similar charge.

Route 206 was also the scene of a Tuesday evening 70-mph chase after Franklin Lupina, a 15-year old escapee from the Jamesburg Boys Home, who had stolen a car in Englishtown. A 15-mile chase from Manville was ended by a road block set up jointly by the Borough, Township and State Police.

Warning shots were fired here during the chase. The lad turned onto Hodge Road but failed to —Continued on Page 8 make the corner at Elm Road. Sgt. Raymond Mondone and Patrolmen Robert McAvenna and Daniel Hagadorn took the youth into custody.

Drivers Fined. Eight motorists who disregarded stop signs and 18 who exceed speed limits paid out $182 to fines and court costs before Magistrate Cheshero this week.

Those of "Stop" sign instructions included George A. Morton, 200 Library Place; Mrs. Mildred Eayer, 62 Stanworth Lane; Mrs. Beatrice W. Heermann, 10 Stanworth Lane; Mrs. Edith Reich, Rosedale Road; John A. Patterson, Alexander Road, Princeton Junction, and Mrs. Laciella Scudder, 76 Clay Street.

Those fined for speeding included Miss Ramona Gladwell, Monmouth Junction; Edward F. Travis, Dutch Neck Road; Mrs. Frances Dalsell, 175 Harrison Street; Sterling Singer, 56 Leigh Avenue; Hamilton Gregg, Belle Mead; A. M. Wade, Princeton-Kingston Road; and Richard M. Raub, 145 Linden Lane.

In Rocky Hill, among the ten speeders fined by Magistrate Mason were Daniel D. Dommesch, Blawenburg; Rocky Hill Road; Gus Gravitzky, Rocky Hill Road; Henry W. Gordon, Hopewell Road; and Jose J. Corner, Canal Road, who paid a fine of $30.

Pablo Colon and Edward Indri-guez, both of Kingston Quarry Camp, were each fined $7 as disorderly persons. They pleaded not guilty. Victor N. Bernard, Canal Road, paid $8 for driving with only one license plate.

Hunter Charged. A 34-year-old Trenton man was apprehended by Township patrolman Lester Anderson near Cherry Hill in the process of hunting raccoon during the deer season, a forbidden procedure under the state law.

The culprit was found carrying a spotlight and a .32 revolver. He was to be charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

One to the Annex. Sixty-five clerks, carriers and supervisory personnel of the Princeton Post Office are now using the newly-completed annex on University Place. The building was designed to provide badly-needed additional space for constantly increasing operations that have until now been carried on solely in the main office at Palmer Square.

Second and third class mail are handled entirely at the annex, where all incoming letters and parcel post are also delivered. The public continues to use only the Palmer Square post office, which also maintains all of the usual services such as registered mail, money orders, stamp and bond sales, and so forth.

The annex was situated in verse this week in this fashion:

Work has proceeded
Around the clock
To put up the building
With haste and speed.
The hammers have pounded
Through day and night
So mailmen may have
The space they need.

Mrs. Martin Bergen of Princeton, Mrs. Gaunt was educated here and completed her professional training in Philadelphia, joining the hospital staff in 1920. Her memories date back the time when "nurses stoked their own furnace and how the nursery was started in the living-room of the old, and now forgotten, Nurses' Home." That building, once the hospital itself, was moved from the grounds several years ago and converted into two private homes.

Mrs. Gaunt is credited by hospital administrator John W. Kauffman with "probably knowing more Princetonians than any other living resident of this community." Dr. John H. Wallace, Jr., president of the hospital's board of trustees, commented that "this Saturday evening we will be paying our respects to a remarkable person who has provided for Princeton residents in all walks of life the kind of understanding care and know-how for which science will never find substitutes."

Bequest to Princetonian. Thomas O. Stanley of Carter Road has been named as one of two principal beneficiaries in a million-dollar estate left by his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hasslacher of New York. He and another grandson, a resident of New Vernon, will receive approximately half of the estate after specific bequests to other relatives.

The dollar value of their inheritance was not indicated but the estate's net value was listed as $1,154,002. Mrs. Hasslacher's husband was a member of a chemical manufacturing firm which merged with E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co. in 1930.

Course on Russia Offered. Eight members of the departments of History and Politics at Princeton will join in presenting a course called "America Faces Russia" at the Princeton Adult School. The 1955 session will begin Thursday, January 13, at Princeton High School.

The theme of the course will be the differences and similarities between the two countries, and this topic will be presented in the introductory lecture, to be given by Dr. Peter Putnam of the History Department on January 13. On January 20 and 27, Dr. Harold Chase from the Department of Politics and Dr. Cyril Black

News of the Churches

Millstone Christmas Pageant. "Star of Wonder," the Christmas pageant given last year by the East Millstone Reformed Church, will be repeated this year. Over 500 people from all over New Jersey attended last year's performance, and two services have been scheduled for this year to accommodate more guests. One will be held this Friday and one this Sunday, both at 7 p.m.

The candlelight service derives its title from a narrative of the Nativity written by Harry T. Hough of Millstone. The young choir will sing, accompanied by the old organ which is one of the oldest organs to be installed in this part of the state.

Lighting for the pageant has been specially designed by John Burtis, an engineer who makes his home in Millstone. Following the service, the choir goes caroling through Millstone and the surrounding countryside.

Over a Thousand. More than $1000 has been given by residents of the Princeton area to the "S.O.S."—Share Our Surplus project sponsored by 11 Princeton churches. Dr. John R. Bodo, in making the announcement, pointed out that for this sum, $20,000 worth of food will be distributed abroad to needy people. The food comes free out of United States governments, surplus warehouses and the contributions are used to defray costs of shipping and administration.

Contributions are still welcome. Checks should be made out to the treasurer of any participating church.

Unitarian Will Head Drive. Rowan Boone, 31 Greenhouse Drive, will direct the Princeton operations of the annual appeal for funds for the Unitarian Service Committee, according to a report account from the Council of the Unitarian Church. The Service Committee gives medical, technical and material help to distressed persons in many parts of the world.

Union Services. An Advent Communion Service will be held this Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church by the three Presbyterian Churches of Princeton. The Rev. George Mair, Minister of Visitation at the First Presbyterian Church, will lead the Meditation. From 5 to 5:30 Sunday afternoon, there will be a Vesper service in the Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church led by Dr. John R. Bodo, pastor of the church.

Carol Sing at Kingston. On Christmas Eve at 7 p.m. the Young People of the Kingston Presbyterian Church will join the Young People of the Kingston Methodist Church for a Community Carol Sing.

The Senior Young People will present a Christmas play called "Gifts in the Stable" this Sunday at 7:30. The public is invited.

REGULAR SERVICES

St. Paul's Roman Catholic. Masses will be offered hourly on Sunday from 6 a.m. to 11 a.m., and Novena devotions on Monday at 8 p.m. A solemn Midnight Mass will be offered on Christmas Eve, with hourly masses from 6 to 11 a.m. on Christmas Day.

Rosedale Chapel. This Sunday at 4 p.m. there will be a Christmas Service in the Chapel led by the Rev. S.S. Rizzo. Carols and special Christmas music will be featured and after the service there will be a social hour with Santa Claus and a Christmas tree.

Rocky Hill Reformed. "The Crisis of Christmas" is the 11 a.m. sermon topic of Mr. Gordon H. Curtis, pastor of the church. The combined efforts of the —Continued on Page 12

Books Say "Merry Christmas" Best

BOOKS are the easiest of all gifts to select, yet the most correct. Buyers of book gifts needn't worry about size or color scheme, or whether he or she already has one. No one ever receives too many books. Even the person who rarely buys books himself will be flattered by the gift of books. There is a book gift for every age and every interest. Price is no problem — books come in every price range. Besides, with books more than anything else, it's the idea behind the gift that counts.

McCARTER THEATRE

Restricted Rave, "The annual miracle of Triangle," in this case the Triangle Club's 63rd annual production "Tunis, Anyone?", played before SRO crowds over the weekend with only one important limitation — lack of distinctive, lifting material.

The show had sellout performance and production most all the way, but it wasn't able to overcome the absence of songs and sketches which could send its audiences out with a lastingly bright memory of the '54 show.

Without a question, Princeton's Triangle Club in the post-war years has turned out the best "college show" in the nation. "Tunis, Anyone?" was perhaps the best-performed of this era, but material was the stopper.

In its way, the show is a landmark in the new (fondly-termed) "golden era" of Triangle, because its 25-member cast and chorus made the best of those extra-long rehearsal hours which post-war Triangle demands in its search for a "near-professional" show.

The principals were excellent, keeping in balance in the best handled "book" of recent memory. There was no distortion in the well-handled portrayals of Ronnie Friedrich (Triangle president), Albo Hinckley, Tom Petrus, John Macrae and Ted James. They were amusing, adept, quick and well-directed, with the additional plus of Friedrich's genuinely lively effect on the chorus lines.

It was a unified show, well-handled by coaches Mike Stewart, Forrest Bonshire, Sam Steen and Harry Pierpoint. When you add in good costuming by Frank Brady, good sets under exceptional demands by Jerry Press '57 and good technical handling by John Gregory '56, why wasn't "Tunis, Anyone?" a big hit?

Despite the good spirits and delightfully bad puns, the audience got left out. Conceding that this department persists in preferring this year's revue as Triangle's best form, the well-trimmed book seemed to remain as the kind of thing which breaks up the dormitory room in which it is (of nature) born.

Two somewhat irrelevant things, the Tarzan sketch and the most excellent "Mambo-Jumbo" number (astonishingly well done, set, lighted and conceived) were "best in show."

"Pornography" was typical of the "Triangle-type songs" which with a bit more doctoring could have been extra special fun. Colossal Hamilton P. Schrauff did it well enough as is, though.

This is not to under-estimate the chorus numbers, which were done with precision, life, color and real sense of well-paced performance. It seems almost disappointing to report that the show's most tuneful number was a scene-change, "Travel, Travel, Travel," and that the better "Tunis" lyrics showed their best in the ghoully "Mike Hamurabi's the Name."

Under the guidance of a half-dozen experienced veterans, "Tunis, Anyone?" was the prod—Continued on Page 19

The congeniality of the cocktail hour at the end of a busy day is an American tradition. Good friends gather together for enjoyable conversation, blended with delectable hors d'oeuvres and a cool, dry martini or a mellow old fashioned.

The pleasure of the occasion is assured by the quality of the cocktails. Here at The Inn, your order will be prepared by skilled bartenders, using the best of domestic and imported liquors, to give you cocktail perfection.

Our spacious, comfortable cocktail lounge is open for your convenience until midnight.

PRINCETON INN

The concert is being sponsored by the New Jersey Conference, Women's Society of Christian Service, Mrs. Charles W. Marker heads the committee in charge. Tickets may be obtained at the box office before Friday's performance.

Herbert Huffman will direct the Boychoir, assisted by Donald Bryant at the piano. The opening group of songs will include 16th and 17th century compositions by Leisring, Croce and Handel. They will be followed by Spanish, English and French Christmas carols. Mr. Bryant will play two piano works by Chopin, the Mazurka in C sharp minor and the Ballade in A flat. The evening's highlight will be Haydn's one-act opera, "The Apothecary." It will feature choreography by Stella Becker and Ethel Sprague, sets by Robert Allen, and a full cast of characters from the Boychoir.

An Italian song, works by Orlando di Lasso, Mozart and Robert McGimsey, and "The Deaf Old Woman" specially arranged by Mr. Bryant are also included on the program.

Friday's concert will be part of a busy week for "America's Singing Boys." Members of the chorus have appeared a number of times on network television shows during the week. Included were the programs "Frontiers of Faith" on Sunday and "12.32 A. M." the following day. Bill McIver, Montoursville, Pa., 12-year-old, will return in the title role of Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors" (this Sunday at 5 over WRCA, Channel 44), with the Boychoir also assisting in the production.

Princeton boys attending the Boychoir School include Bill Seyfarth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seyfarth, R. D. No. 2; Bruce Renshaw, son of Mrs. Janet Renshaw, 29 Dempsey Ave.; Travis Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant, and Paul Ingraham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ingraham.

out of quite a few youthful Triangle hands. If the excellent performance of this year's show is matched by growth in the book, music and lyric departments, a year from now "Triangle '55" ought to be quite a show.

CHILDREN'S SERIES

The 23rd annual Children's Entertainment Series sponsored by the Borough Elementary Schools PTA will open January 12 with a performance of "Sinbad the Sailor" in McCarter Theatre.

The series has been planned once again to give children in grades one through eight an opportunity to enjoy live and varied theatre entertainment.

The coming series will include three plays performed by the Children's World Theatre, one of the leading professional children's theatre groups, and a special performance by the Children's Group of the Princeton Ballet Society under the direction of Mrs. Audree Estey.

Full information on the coming programs and tickets will be found in the advertisement on page 19. Season tickets and single performance tickets may be ordered by writing to the Children's Entertainment Committee, 80 Murray Place, or going to the Nassau Street School this Monday from 2:30 to 3:15 p.m.

All of this year's performances will be given in McCarter Theatre. Under the special arrangement, any adult accompanying at least five children from school outside of Princeton will receive a complimentary adult's ticket.

Members of the committee which has planned this year's series are Mrs. Courtland D. Perkins, chairman; Mrs. Robert V. C. Whitehead Jr., tickets; Mrs. James Thorpe, publicity; Mrs. William K. Evans, treasurer, and Mrs. Richard K. Toner, ushers. Mrs. Hadley Cantrell heads the Borough Elementary Schools PTA.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Athena (Dec. 16-18) is a somewhat satirical musical comedy starring Jane Powell, Debbi Reynolds, Edmund Purdom, Vic Damone, Louis Calhern and Linda

Christian. The antics of seven wacky granddaughters of a health faddist are handled in generally light-hearted fashion. A half-dozen songs are tossed in. Color.

Living It Up (Dec. 13-21) finds Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis at work in a lively, gag-filled show that represents an overall plus on their usual fun-making. The Technicolor film is a remake of Continued on Page 28 creamed tuna fish canned by the Carnation Milk people. Bamberger's has filets of sole, Normandie, coq au vin, or partridge with foie gras and truffles, all in cans. The Gourmet has a snail-taster with snail holder, 24 snails and snail plate for $3.75.

For a connoisseur on your list, buy Twining's gift packages of teas from Schafer's, 350 Nassau. Four varieties, or four of the same kind for $4.25. Gift teas at Gourmet and the Nassau Del, also.

Top off your Christmas dinner with cheese—the big fat silver-wrapped Edam ball at Gourmet, or any of the imported and domestic cheeses at Davidson's, 172 Nassau. Gourmet has "15 East," a cocktail blend with a Roquefort base. Gift packages of cheese at Gourmet are $4.25 and $5.95, packed with Norwegian, Danish, Italian and Swiss cheeses. Continental cheese wheels have Gruyere types for $3.25. Gift baskets of imported and domestic foods are available in any food store.

Schafer's has a Crosse & Blackwell package with jams, shortbread, plum puddings, hard sauce and butterscotch for $3.98. Frank Cooper Ltd. has six jars of jams (chamble, marmalade and various preserves) in a box for $2.25 at Gourmet. Here too we found German strawberries at $2.10 a pound.

Davidson's will pack a fruit basket for you with jellies and preserves as well as the usual fruits. These start at $3.77.

Schafer's, Davidson's, Bovino's (59 Leigh Avenue) and the Food

Mart (20 Witherspoon) will pack fruit baskets with seasonal fruits, dates, figs, preserves—anything you want at prices from about $2.50.

Fruit cakes are in rich supply at all stores. Davidson has a two-pounder for 98c; Nill's Bakery (100 Nassau & Shopping Center) has little square ones for $1.25; Bovino's price them at $2.49 to $3.75. Bamberger's fruit-cake aged six months, is packed in a cheerful box. (Cake weighs in at 3 pounds for $2.99. Candy box (52 Nassau) has a 2-pounder for $6. Union Food (205 Witherspoon) and Schafer's have fruit-cakes rich and ripe with nuts and glacéed fruits. Charlotte Charles cakes are at the Del and Gourmet, in one or two pound cakes.

If fruit cake is too rich for your smallest guests, buy ice-cream molds at Nill's at the Shopping Center. Molded into Santas, bells, yule log or an ice-cream cake, these forms are ready for you to pick up at a minute's notice. Country Club ice-cream is the brand at The Candy Box, 52 Nassau, where you may order two-quart ice-cream cakes, and all kinds of holiday molds.

Visions of Sugar Plums, Russell Stover candies, in immense variety, are on the shelves at Thorne's (168 Nassau). Chocolate mint patties, colored mints, the old-fashioned mixture (no chocolates, only pean rolls, sugar mints and other pastel confections), and some Honeyuckle straw—those colored sticks that children love to suck on. Prices for Stover candies are $1.25 a pound—$3.75 for three pounds, $6.25 for five, and so on.

Cans of candies are one-half filled candies, one-half hard candies. And so many candy cases! In all sizes, at 5c and 10c. Peanut brittle at Thorne's, and boxes of Kemps' Assorted Nuts. Or stuff a stocking with a box that holds one dozen assorted Life Savers (59c). Whitman's Sampler and the Candy Cupboard boxes are other favorites at Thorne's.

Viedt's, 110 Nassau, has imported foil-wrapped chocolate figures to hang from your tree: drums, trees, and so on. Margepin in this shop is made like strawberries —Continued on Page 22

THE CHRISTMAS SHOP

We hate to brag about our shop,
But once a year we feel we may,
For we have things to please the heart
Of those receiving, Christmas Day.

Imagine jars bedecked in jewels.
And candles scented deep with pine,
Bright silver in a hundred shapes
And copper things that gleam and shine.

Gay Christmas balls, both large and small.
Choice china for the heart's delight,
Bright angels with a winsome grace,
And jewels to wear when feet are light.

Wee toys to hang upon the tree,
Nice kitchen things that are just right,
And horns of plenty for a door,
To shine upon the frosty night.

There's Delft from Holland, crystal, brass;
And Doulton figurines so gay
Deep punch bowls with the cups to match
To put more joy in Christmas Day.

We haven't mentioned everything.
There isn't room in this small space,
But you'll have fun while shopping here.
Because it is a lovely place.

The gifts you buy we wrap and tie
Your shopping here gives us delight
And when you buy a Cummins gift
You may be certain it is right.

and packed into a carton. Ribbon candy pokes into a stocking toe or hangs from a tree.

Here are Droeste apples from the Dutch chocolate kettles, maple sugar Santas from Vermona, and those clear harley sugar lollypops, two for 15c. Fanny Farmer, Whitman and Wallace (the thin mint man) are national brands available at Viedt's.

Birns chocolates fill the trays at Nill's, where a two-pound assortment is $3. Choirboys, reindeer and Santas look like candles but they turn out to be chocolate with a film that you peel off. Toblerone is a Swiss milk chocolate with honey and almonds. It appears again at The Candy Box.

At this hon-bon-sized Candy Box we also found liquid cordials, covered with hard-candy or chocolate, imported English toffees, one of them (Hoover) in a 7½-oz. canister you can use over again for $1.75. Chocolates from Switzerland, Holland—and New Jersey: home-made candies, including sugar-mints, from the kitchen of Miss Schick. Other mints, for after-dinner munching, come in such flavors as coffee, as well as chocolate, for 45c a pound. National candy brands at the Candy Box are Schrafft's, Rosemarie de Paris and Sherry, all of them in boxes from one pound up.

Cordial chocolates again at the Del, wrapped in colorful foil by the Dutch. Trees, churches, figures and coins—all in chocolate, some foil-wrapped—the Del likes these.

From the Gourmet, try Maroons Glace, at $1.20 for six ounces, or the Bonbons Becco from France—a dozen lollypops in colored sugar candy with a different flower delicately traced on each pop. (Hard candies to match). Casalis Mignons are hazelnut-filled wafer biscuits, if that idea appeals to you.

We were fascinated by the idea of crystalized violets—apparently the real thing, artificially colored and packed in a box so that they look like potpourri. Hard candies shaped like lemon or orange slices come from France.

Bovino and the Food Mart have boxes of chocolates from Italy, made by Perugina. Try The Torrone—it's like a nougat. Bamherger's shelves have chocolates, glazed fruit that is prepared whole—little apricots, cherries, and so on. Marzipan is everywhere—almost all the stores that sell candies and fruits have this rich almond candy—The Ball, Nill's, Davidson's, Viedt's, Bovino's, the Del.

Eleventh Hour. Gifts that are small in price or small in size (the two are not necessarily the same) belong in the category we sometimes call "stocking stuffers"—novelties to fill up a toe, tuck into the corners of a carton already full of bigger presents, or to buy at the last minute when the bank balance is beginning to teeter.

Biggest stocking in town is the felt one at The Little Clothes Line, 5 Palmer Square West. Four feet tall, it bulges to one foot in diameter when it's full. A felt bouquet trimmed with bells looks quite small on its toe, but turns out to be four inches across. This stocking is hand-made, hand applied with sequins and colorful Christmas designs.

IT'S NEW TO US
At the other end of the Clothes Line is a three-inch belt of cloth with a pair of felt overalls. Small dolls have taken up residence at Clayton's, too, but these are baby dolls, dressed in organdy, and measuring about four inches.
At Clayton's, (17 Palmer Square) there is "Puepchen," a German doll that ends in all sorts of agreeable positions. Comes as a bride, housemaid, assorted children, waiter and a mother—all about four inches tall. A four-inch German cradle (59c) would hold the baby. The family cupboard would probably be a painted wooden one, five inches high whose doors open to reveal wooden jars on the shelves and bolts of cloth.

Still in the world of Lilliput, we found at Bellows (208 Nassau) a Wild West express train whose engine measures two inches. Four cars took along. The Austrian toys, bright paint on sturdy wood, are at Bellows again this year. Allen's, 134 Nassau, has a fleet of bath toys. Small stuffed animals appear, of all places, at The Candy Box, where the menagerie is made of real fur that will wash. Animals are pink, white or yellow (REAL fur? Pink?) A musical cat is $6.99, and there is a roughish monkey with hat and overalls for $5.95.

Bamberger's caters to the older stocking with a fully equipped Scout Bar, sized for Cub or Scout. We found a fire-making kit, assorted hatchets and lethal-looking knives. Presumably they teach the young how to handle these tools without too many consequences. Scout First-Aid Kits are also available.

No baby has enough models to make. Ship an aircraft carrier into his stocking—buy it from the Radio and Hobby Center, 12 Witherspoon.

Personal gifts for young ones—well, there are pink or blue fur-dress collars for teen-agers at Bellows, cozily boxed cat-muffs for boy or girl at Allen's, and a pair of business-like cowboy gauntlets in the same store. Bellows offers girls a Fit-All brief for $1.65 in a package no bigger than your hand; a little girl's mitten with a little finger as well as a thumb, a pair of gloves with different color for each finger and some colored stripes around the hand, just to make sure; a $1 red purse to snap to your belt, just big enough for an allowance.

Bamberger's displays its "Little Lady" cosmetic line, made for young girls in light scents and colors. A flexible rubber pall five inches across is filled with bubble bath. Shovel it out with a red sand and use the whole thing next summer at the beach. In this line of cosmetics there is dusting powder, a pale pink lip pomade, hand lotion, bubble bath in a bot-

Sports in Princeton

Tigers Take to the Road. Having won but a single game of the four they played last week, Princeton's basketball and hockey teams are heading for a pair of pre-Christmas encounters apiece this weekend. The Nassau quintet is in for the toughest sort of opposition from Michigan State and Iowa in Pennsylvania's Allegheny, with the latter (Saturday night's opponent) ranked in the top five quintets in a basketball-crazy nation. The Quakers and Tigers will represent the Ivy League in the two-day affair, with double-headers scheduled each night.

Princeton's skaters will take on M.I.T. in Boston this Friday night and Northeastern on Saturday. The opposition in this case is not as tough as the average Eastern college can produce, and the Nassau contingent should come up with a pair of victories.

Split in Basketball, Hitting on a fantastic 60 per cent of its first-half shots, Lafayette's young basketball team, playing without a senior in its starting lineup, ran all over the Tigers last week in the season's opener. A highly confident outlook on Princeton's part was largely responsible for its downfall: the Leopards had a 17-point margin at half time and were whittled down to no 35-74 triumph when the home forces began to play better basketball after the intermission.

Captain Bud Haabestad, who has an average of 25.5 points in his first two games, sent the Tigers off to a quick 8-2 lead as he clicked on a pair of three-point plays and Dick Batt followed with a jump shot. However, Lafayette battled back, controlling both backboards, and went into the lead for good with a 13-12 margin after six minutes of play.

visitors were in front, 45-28, and four minutes after action had resumed, they had a 23-point bulge at 56-33. Princeton rallied to pare this to 79-70 with two minutes left but the outcome was not in doubt. Haabestad caged 23 points and sophomore Tom Dailey added 15 but none of the other Princetonians could do much.

It was a mighty pleasant victory for the young Lafayette coach, Bill Van Breda Kolff, a member of the Class of 1947 here and a Tiger star until he left college and played for the New York Knickerbockers. All five of his starting players were in double figures, the lowest with 14 points, so evenly was his team's ability distributed. Numerous defensive lapses were largely responsible for the losers' defeat, since they connected on a respectable 43 per cent of their shots.

Rutgers Swamped. Saturday night saw victory come Princeton's way against an inexperienced Rutgers quintet, which hasn't a letterman on the starting team. The Scarlet was thumped on its home floor in New Brunswick, 92-70, the victors' total representing the highest number of points Princeton has scored in the 54-game series that dates back to 1916.

It was no contest from the very beginning, as the Orange and Black jumped into a 7-0 lead, widened this to 26-9 seven minutes before the half ended and ran off to a 49-27 margin at the intermission. At one juncture in the second half, the victors held a 30-point advantage.

Haabestad collected 26 points on ten field goals and six points to run his three-year scoring to 843, topping Bernie Adams' mark of 829 that was set between 1948 and 1950. Dick Frye with 15 and John DeVoe with 12 were also in double figures, while three Rutgers players matched this performance.

Skaters Beaten Twice. If Princeton's hockey team had played as well Saturday against Boston University as it had 48 hours earlier against St. Lawrence, the Tigers might have an even split in their first two intercollegiate games. However, after giving a good performance against the powerful Larries, they were off in passing, shooting and defensive play in losing to an unimpressive Boston University contingent.

The respective scores were 5-2 and 4-2 for the visitors but the caliber of play against St. Lawrence was far superior, despite the wider margin of victory.

The first of two goals by George Scragg, the Tigers' ablest skater, deadloaked the St. Lawrence game early in the second period. The Canton, N. Y., outfit had beaten Bill Van Alstyne with a goal shortly before the first rounded ended, Scragg then scoring unassisted from 20 feet out 57 seconds after play had resumed.

It took a three-goal flurry in the final period to assure the visitors of the triumph. Scragg scoring again for Princeton at 9:13 of this stanza. Johnny Butsch was credited with an assist on the play, with St. Lawrence having a man in the penalty box on both occasions.

Ability to score while Boston University was short-handed would have benefitted the Tigers Saturday, for the Beantown entry picked up four penalties to Princeton's one and appeared to be shaky on defense. However, despite the fact that he was drawn out of position time and again, goalie John Aiken of the visitors kicked out 38 shots.

Captain George Hackl scored while the Tigers were a man short in the third round, beating Aiken on a hard shot to the top —Continued on Page 26 left corner of the cage. The visitors racked up their third goal shortly thereafter but John Butsch narrowed the margin to 3-2 at 6:11. All further Princeton scoring drives were thwarted, however, with B. U. adding an insurance marker in the final minute.

Schoolboy Tournament. Princeton will be the scene again this weekend of the annual prep school hockey tournament sponsored by the Lawrenceville School. Play begins Friday morning in Baker Rink, with the championship game set for Saturday afternoon. (See Calendar of the Week for starting times.)

In the opening round, St. Paul's School, new to the tourney, will face Choate. Northwood meets Belmont Hill. Deerfield plays Lawrenceville and Taft takes on Nichols. If the weather permits, the latter game will be played on Lawrenceville's new rink.

The teams will compete for the Robert Piel Memorial Trophy, established in memory of the Princeton resident who was one of the tournament's founders and was an alumnus of both Lawrenceville and Princeton. Trinity of Canada has held it for the past two seasons.

Charles R. Erdman, Jr., who also is a graduate of both Lawrenceville and Princeton, is chairman of the tournament committee, with Harrison M. Fraker the treasurer. Other members are Christopher Rodgers, Donald R. Young, Richard D. Whitney, George Young, James Carey, Fred M. Blaicher and Dan D. Coyle of Princeton; Lawrence Tishonen and Thomas Johnston of Lawrenceville.

P.C.D. Letter Winners. Letters were awarded by Princeton Country Day School this week to 20 members of the soccer squad and nine members of the six-man football squad. Their respective coaches were Herbert McAneny and Lester Tibbals.

Soccer awards went to Captain Taylor Woodward, Joseph Delafeld, Walter Menand, Jackson Sloan, Craig Stafford, William Starkey, Clark Travers, Michael Callahan, Guy Dean, Arthur Edmonds, Robert Dorf, Andrew Godfrey, Roger Kirkpatrick, Daniel Quick, David Smoyer, Donald Stuart, Jr., Peter Moeck, Webb Harrison, James Shea and Frederick Osborne, the manager.

Six-man football letters were given to Captain William Kales, Andrew Kerr, Roger Hoyt, John Bales, MacPherson Raymond, Jr., Joseph Budney, Christopher Shannon, John Cook and Douglas Rampona. Shannon is the new football captain, while Smoyer will lead the soccer players.

PHS Opens Home Season. With two road games under its belt, Princeton High will open its home basketball season this Friday against Hightstown at 3:15. The favored Little Tigers will be trying to repeat their 66-47 victory of last year.

PHS opened its season on the road by defeating North Plainfield, 76-64, last week. The Little Tigers jumped to an early 16-13 first quarter lead which they never relinquished.

Forward Marv Trotman, whose three points in the final minute of the initial period sent Princeton ahead to stay, led the Little Tiger attack with 35 points, while teammate Dick Wood contributed another 18. The Tigers also faced a strong Neptune team on Neptune's home court Tuesday.

Hun Drops Opener. The Hun School opened its 1954-55 basketball season Saturday by losing to Rutgers Prep, 60-42. Hun's only returning lettermen, Jim Lavan, led the scoring for the inexperienced losers with 11 points.

Jerry Gorczyca paced the New Brunswick team with 18 points although he played only about half the game. The visitors substituted liberally after their starting five raced to a 17-4 lead in the first period.

Hun takes to the road next for a contest with Solebury on Friday, January 7. It plays host to the George School in the next home game, January 11.

Hun Makes Awards. Jim Lavan of Trenton was awarded the Headmasters Trophy, given to the outstanding football back, and Doug Wood was awarded a trophy for outstanding line play at the Hun School sports banquet. Athletic Director Zig Emery presented the awards to the two juniors.

Princeton residents who were awarded football letters at the banquet by Hun grid coach Bob Ball were: Bill Pearson, Wayne Anderson, George Griggs and George Cramer. Soccer co-captain Bob Cox was among those given soccer letters.

tle, a bath mitt, and shampoo. They are grouped together in various combinations for gifts—a (carousal) holds lotions, bubble bath and shampoo, for example.

Size Nine. Slip into mother's nylon a box of the rose petals they have at Clayton's, or the solid cologne in six different scents from The Flower Basket, 311 is a treated tissue for washing your hands for travelers, children or typists at Wilcox.

Thorne offers Coty's Golden Swan package for $2—a glittering piece of Christmas giving. Coty, Charles of the Ritz, Arden, Grey—all these have smaller packages at Bamberger's, Artistic Hairdresser, Thorne's and Wilcox (20 Nassau) give you Elizabeth Arden. Wilcox likes the sachet powder in small boxes, or the Cinderella Slipper with small bottles of Elizabeth Arden fragrance. Guest soaps are $2 for six small cakes, and there is a solid cologne for Arden fans, too.

The Princeton Decorating Shop suggests a gold kid snap purse that looks like a little girl's—$2.50. For the other end of the day, Stonewall's (13 Palmer Square) has a folding shopping bag for $1, or a shopping bag, pad and pencil for $1.50. A hip viewer has a case for your own lipstick with a small round mirror attached, for $1. "Little Stinker" is a sachet—five for 50¢—with Disney-like skunks posing on the paper covers. An E-Z bookmark will locate your place at $1.

The Silver Shop, down the street at 59 Palmer Square, has charm bracelets in 14-karat gold or sterling. Buy a rare old witchery charm for dangle.

French purses have been fashioned out of ivory, old rose or pale green leather and decorated (or plain) with tiny gold fleur de lis. These sell for $4.40 and $5.50 at Luttman's, 132 Nassau. Cigarette cases, lighters and compacts match the purses.

On the House. Buying a house present for someone this year? Look at Princeton's Decorating's shell-work cigarette boxes. Made for a formal, rather feminine room, these boxes are pale dusty rose or pale gray green with small shells glued to their tops in delicate designs. Match-boxes are $6 for four, cigarette boxes somewhat more.

The Silver Shop showed us a tea-caddy spoon—stubby of handle, short in the bowl, used by tea drinkers for preparing their own brew at the tea table. One commemorates the coronation of Elizabeth II. At the same shop, we found silver scroll-work decanter labels, and a curious old Victorian knife rest that could be

What home-town institution has just set an all-time high in savings?

This may surprise you! In 1954 Americans of all kinds—people just like those you see above—put over 3.9 billion of their hard-earned savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations . . . more than in any previous year . . . and more than they put anywhere else.

Why? Why did millions of Americans elect to save in their home-town, insured Savings and Loan Associations?

There are several very simple reasons:

One—Safety. Your savings are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—an agency of the U. S. Government.

Two—Insured Savings and Loan Associations give excellent returns on your savings. That's because they can invest most of their funds in sound, monthly-paying home mortgages.

Three—The officers of insured Savings and Loan Associations really know their communities. Last year they were the nation's largest single source of mortgage loans for home building, buying and alterations! Savings and Loan Associations originated the "pay-like-rent" home mortgage.

Whether you're interested in savings or home loans, drop in at your insured Savings and Loan Association. You'll find it's a mighty good place to do business.

News Of The Theatres

The Broadway musical "Hazel Flagg," with Lewis as the supposedly "dying" lad who takes a last fling at the big city, Janet Leigh, Sheree North, Fred Clark are also starred in a show with plenty of zany comic situations, plus songs and dances.

Beau Brummel (Dec. 22-21), as everybody knows, was England's famous fashion plate, which naturally suggests an eye-ripping costume drama in color. Stewart Granger has stepped into the role in a bit of natural costing as he goes through a Regency drama of pagantry, court rise and decline, etc. Elizabeth Taylor contributes a lush lady-love, Peter Ustinov a mysterious Prince of Wales, and Robert Morley a skillful demented George III. Friday (final day) showings at 3 and 7:30 p.m., only.

THE GARDEN

Four Gates to the Border (Dec. 17-19) follows the regular Western formula of action and romance. Rory Calhoun heads an outlaw crew which does some fighting, pushes in a bank, meets reformed gunslinger and daughter, etc. Technicolor, Indians, Walter Brennan, Calven Miller and Nina Foch also included.

Reap the Wild Wind (Dec. 20-22) is a Cecil B. DeMille re-issue (1936) in Technicolor, starring Ray Milland, Paulette Goddard, John Wayne, Raymond Massey and Susan Hayward. Not reviewed at press time.

Adventures of Robinson Crusoe (Dec. 23-25) is the Daniel Defoe classic brought to the screen once again. The new version of the great adventure story is in color and well-made with wide appeal. Don O'Herry of Diana's Abbey Theatre is excellent in the demanding role of the ship-wrecked man who overcomes the challenges of his unknown island. Friday shows will be only at 3 and 7:30 p.m.

IT'S NEW TO US

used for well, testing a knife. An exquisite sugar and creamer would be fine for someone's breakfast tray—only two inches high or so, the sugar is a copy of the famous Revere bowl, the pitcher complements it in size and design.

From the Silver Shop, buy a two-inch silver frame, oval, oblong or heart shaped. Here's an old candle snuffer with ebony handle—another one with silver handle. And for the man who has everything—a 14-karat gold toothpick.

Stonewall's has sterling snuffers for a holiday candle at $2.95. Leave the silver cone on top of the burned-out candle just for look. Crystal candlesticks, two inches high, are heavy and handsome. Taper holders are two for a nickel—little squares of heavy glass with a hole in the center.

A candle at Stonewall's has an outside wick that drips silver on the white candle (gold on black, red on white, green on white, multicolor on white.) When that wick has gone, the regular inside one takes over. For $1 a pair, called the Hocar. (Food Mart has a candle that drips in colors, too.)

A pair of low candle-holders are made of red metal in the shape of poinsettia leaves. They are 39c a pair with adjustable insides. A paragon base on another candle makes it stick in any holder. A bayberry candle for 50c comes in a container ready to mail. Decorated, without the container, it's $1. Candles by the gross at Schafer's Market, and in smaller amounts at other food stores.

For decking the hall, look for the greens at The Flower Basket. Consider a Christmas tree from Howe's Nursery in Pennington where they have a forest of them right out of Hansel and Gretel. Some are straight Christmas trees that you stick into a rack from the hardware store. Others are balled and burlapped, ready to be planted outside if you take care of them. Greens at Rosedale, too, down on Alexander Street next to the Rosedale hems.

Now that you have a tree to trim and a feast to prepare, we shall leave you and your excited family to the happy traditions of Christmas-time, and the hopeful beginnings of the New Year.
